

Chief Scientific Adviser c.£140k + pension + performance bonus, London

This is one of the most senior and influential roles within the MOD. Your inspirational leadership and expert advice on research, technologies and procurement will ensure UK defence is underpinned by world class science and technology. As a scientist or engineer of international standing, you will have the presence to work at the highest levels both nationally and internationally, together with the ability to influence policy at both of these levels. Find out more at www.seniormodopportunities.co.uk
 Closing date: 19th November 2007. The Ministry of Defence - A Force for Good in the World

