

New jobsite's on the money

The Audit Commission wants to be seen as modern, diverse and accessible. It wants to engage with a wider social and ethnic pool in ways that don't feel quite so typically 'public sector'.

Hence this conceptually simple jobsite. Just as the Audit Commission makes sure that public money is spent wisely, it makes sure that your time with it is spent wisely too.

The site went live on the 2nd April.

Get wise about the Audit Commission

► Watch video now!

We help make hospitals more efficient, improve recycling rates and keep neighbourhoods safe. Thanks to us, the emergency services get what they need to do their job properly - and young people get their skate parks. » find out more
